Re: Division Notice 9-704

Dear Brothers and Sisters:

The carrier has implemented a new minimum time that employees may claim when deadheading to outlying terminals. This is consistent with Title 49 CFR part 228. This "Reasonable Estimate" (CFR term) was calculated using Bing Mapping. An additional 25% can be added to the time to allow for travel conditions and/or weather. This means that the minimum Deadhead time claimed should never be less than time allotted unless your home terminal is closer to the outlying point than your residence. Remember, taking an unreasonable route to the outlying point is not acceptable.

This minimum Deadhead time will be used by the crew dispatchers when calling assignments. No longer will the crew dispatchers call you and ask, "how much deadhead do you have?" thereby disturbing your "rest" causing fatigue, only to find out you are not rested. Any instances of this taking place should be reported to your local chairman. Should you encounter any delay in your travel time, upon arrival at your sign-up location you should call the crew callers and amend your time. Your travel time can vary between to and from a terminal.

If you should encounter any issues with this new policy, please contact your local chairman for resolution.

Very truly yours,

James P. Brown

General Chairman BLE&T/NJT

SUPPLEMENTAL DIVISION NOTICE 9-704

Effective: 12:01 A.M. WEDNESDAY, JULY 18, 2018

This Division Notice contains information not published in previous Division Notices. Where the information contained in this Division Notice conflicts with previous information, employees will be governed by the most recent information. Division Notices 9-S601, 8-628, 9-303, 9-612, 9-626 and 9-704 are in effect for both Divisions. All other Division Notices are cancelled.

---

(1) TRAIN & ENGINE TRAVEL TIME ALLOWANCE

(Effective 7/18/18)

In conjunction with and 49 CFR Part 228 and Special Instruction Q-1, Crew Management will be using a calculated estimated actual travel time allowance for extra list and supplemental list employees for deadhead times to an outlying terminal. The minimum time allowance will be based on a reputable mapping service calculating the fastest route without traffic from an employees' residence to the outlying point. A "reasonable estimate" of travel time will be determined with an additional 25% variance, with additional time allowances being made on the account of traffic conditions and/or weather.

If the time travel allowance from an employees' home terminal to an outlying terminal is less than actual travel time, that amount will continue to be claimed as the deadhead time to and from the assignment.
